SCORE BUSINESS COUNSELING MONEY CAN'T BUY

Business counselors are men and women volunteers with a broad variety of business backgrounds who are eager to share their knowledge, experience and insights at no charge to clients. They are all well qualified to provide good, sound, general business coaching. If you seek assistance of a more specific nature, visit our general list of business skills to see the scope of available talent.

SCORE provides two types of counseling: entrepreneurial start-ups where we assist those who have a dream and need direction in what to do next (how to get started), and SCOREBizSupport (actually consulting) for established businesses striving to reach a higher level of performance. The expertise of one consultant may suffice, or the consultation skills of several may be needed.

At SCORE you will work with people animated by the idea of giving back - passing along to others what they had to learn the hard way. Counselors are committed to practice and convey the highest standards of business ethics - confidentiality is paramount. Individual business counseling is readily available by reservation. SCHEDULE AN APPOINTMENT SCORE offers FREE individual counseling sessions to cover basic or specific business needs. Between the hours of 10 AM and 3 PM, Monday through Friday, SCORE main office and SOUTHEAST MICHIGAN locations are open for counseling by appointment only. Other times and places can be arranged upon request. One thing you should know: Counselors provide business guidance. They will not advise you what to do, but if knowledgeable will tell you about the probable effects of your ideas.
